ALL-AMERICAN

With 1,000 games and counting contested within its walls, anyone who has played in McArthur Court will testify it's a special place. Picture a triple-decked, classically architected pavilion. From the outside, you can hear the roar of the crowd.

Inside, it's packed to the roof with the deafening cheers of more than 9,000 boisterous fans. Overhead, three balconies vibrate to the sound of Oregon's pep band and rally squad and the scoreboard suspended over midcourt appears to quiver. The atmosphere is electric.

That's what it's like playing in 79-year-old McArthur Court, which is better known by players and visitors alike as "The Pit." It's the consummate place to stage a game. Opponents cringe at the thought of playing in Mac Court. Fans speak of it with unmatched reverence.

Named after Clifton N. (Pat) McArthur, a student-athlete and the university's first student body president, Mac Court is one of the classic jewels of Oregon's athletic program. Visitors liken the fabled west coast facility to the old Boston Garden in the east.

According to a recent poll, McArthur Court was deemed as a Pac-10 visiting team's least favorite place to play. In 2001, The Sporting News named it the "best gym in America," and in 1995 Sports Illustrated listed it as one of the 12 toughest places in the country to play at the collegiate level. Students sit at courtside and the atmosphere just before the start of a game is tingling.

Oregon's fans are an integral part of the ambience. The Ducks have ranked annually near the top of attendance figures in the conference and the setting is the favorite of the many television producers and announcers who cover games at Mac Court. The flavor is easy to capture for their audiences.

McArthur Court was built in 1926, with the first game staged January 14, 1927, when the Oregon men's basketball team beat Willamette 38-10, and has since undergone numerous modifications and upgrades.

The Associated Students of the University of Oregon decided to "tax ourselves to build what we want" and their desires included an indoor arena. McArthur Court was thus paid for out of a $15 fee imposed by the ASUO. During 1932, one of the worst depression years, the mortgage was burned in a public ceremony after the Court had been completely paid for.

Even with its tradition, McArthur Court is a modern facility. The building has undergone more than $5 million in renovations over the last decade.

The maple floor, used for the 1990 Goodwill games in Seattle, has drawn raves for both its durability and its "give," making it easy on players' legs.

In 1992, new locker rooms, a team room and coaches offices were added for the men's basketball team, and in 1993, volleyball, women's basketball and softball received significant upgrades to their locker rooms. In 1996, a $400,000 renovation of the outer concourse on the street level was completed and the department of Academic Services for student-athletes was completely updated and redesigned.

The venerable facility also received a new roof in the summer of 1996 to the tune of $1.7 million and new court-level seating was completed in the fall of 1997, making it a viable venue for numerous events well into the 21st century.

During the summers of 2000 and 2001, the outside facade of Mac Court received a face lift with the installation of new windows, the removal of dead ivy and a compressed air pressure cleaning. Inside, the basement received new carpeting and a fresh coat of paint.

The capacity was raised from its original 6,000 seats to 7,600 with a series of additions between 1934-1953 and another expansion in 1955 upped the capacity to 9,100.

Further renovations allowed for as many as 10,063 fans when the upper two balconies were expanded to encircle the arena, but recent alterations to the floor-level seating have dropped the capacity to its current total of 9,087.

FIRST NCAA CHAMPIONS -- THE TALL FIRS

Oregon's 1939 basketball team earned a niche in sports history by winning the first NCAA championship basketball tournament ever held.

With a first unit composed of four native Oregonians and one Washingtonian, Coach Howard Hobson guided the Tall Fir to a 29-5 season record and Oregon's only NCAA basketball title.

The starting five listed three All-Americans in 6-foot 8-inch Urgel 'Slim' Wintermute from Longview, Wash., sharp-shooting Laddie Gale, a 6-4 forward from Oakridge and 5-8 guard Bobby Anet from Astoria. In addition, John Dick, a 6-4 forward from The Dalles, earned All-America honors the following season.

The guard spots were manned by Astorians Anet and 5-11 Wally Johansen. The two had teamed since their grade school days in Astoria.

For reserve strength, Hobson called on the likes of Bob Hardy, Red McNeely, Ford Mullen, Matt Pavalunas, Earl Sandness and Ted Sarpola. Gale, Wintermute, Anet, Johansen and Mullen played on three consecutive Northern Division championship teams.

The Ducks posted a 10-3 non-conference record, highlighted by a two-week Christmas tour that opened in Madison Square Garden with a 38-36 loss to CCNY and concluded with a 50-46 defeat at the hands of Stanford.

In between, however, the Tall Fir won six of seven games giving them a highly respectable 6-3 road mark against some of the nation's finest teams.

Oregon powered to the Northern Division title with a 14-2 record, sweeping four-game series from Idaho and Washington and capturing three of four battles each with Oregon State and Washington State.

That set the stage for a best-of-three playoff with Southern Division champion California at McArthur Court. Before capacity crowds, the Ducks captured the Pacific Coast Conference title in two games. Gale scored 18 points and Wintermute added 11 as the Ducks won the opener, 54-40, and Wintermute and Dick each tallied 16 points in the 53-47 triumph that put Oregon in the NCAA Western Playoffs.

Oregon quickly went to work in the Western Playoffs at Treasure Island, knocking off Texas, 56-41, and dumping Oklahoma, 55-37.

On March 27, the Tall Fir faced Ohio State on the neutral Northwestern University court at Evanston, Ill., for the national title. Dick scored 13 points and Gale and Anet contributed 10 apiece as the Ducks rolled to a 46-33 victory and the NCAA crown.

Huge crowds welcomed them in Portland and Eugene to climax one of the legendary events in the state's athletic history.
